From the Pastor

It is easy for Christians, especially Lutherans, to have a dim view of the universal necessity of good works. We think about Jesus who said: "Don't waste your energy striving for perishable food like that. Work for the food that sticks with you, food that nourishes your lasting life, food the Son of Man provides. He and what he does are guaranteed by God the Father to last."

We think about Martin Luther who staked his very life on the fact that we are saved not by works but by God's mercy. One of the interesting dichotomies in the life of Martin Luther is that he said that while we are not saved BY works we are saved, in part, TO work and to do good work. It is intriguing that the one who advocated justification by grace through faith should have such a high esteem for productive work that he said to his parish not to send the brightest young people into ordained ministry but into public service, which for him meant work that would be good for the common good, the most people. He believed that Christians and non-Christians alike were created by God for the purpose of making society as a whole better:

more just, more compassionate and more life giving to all. Luther believed if one were called to be a farmer one should be the best farmer one could be. If a person were called to be a garbage collector one should be the best garbage collector one could be. No vocation, not even ordained ministry, was a higher calling than another.

Luther had a deep appreciation for the importance of every one doing good work, not because they had to in order to earn salvation (or God' favor) but out of gratitude for having been saved by Jesus Christ.

Luther thought highly of the words of the Apostle Paul when he writes: "Work hard, but not just to please your masters when they are watching. As slaves of Christ, do the will of God with all your heart. Work with enthusiasm, as though you were working for the Lord rather than for people" (Ephesians 6:6-7).

Luther would surely have celebrated Labor Day should that have been available during his time as would the author of good work Himself.

Have a Blessed Labor Day,

Pastor Bruce

Rev H. J. Wickre to preach farewell sermon Sunday, August 26

Candidate for pastorship to preach

at Concordia Church Sunday

Rev H J Wickre, pastor of five churches in the Glyndon, Buffalo River and Averill districts, was in the city today and announced that he had resigned from the pastorship of the churches and will preach his farewell sermon at Concordia Church on Sunday, August 26 at 10:30 a.m. At that time there will also be confirmation and communion services. Rev. Mr. Wickre has found it necessary to resign owing to failing health and will leave for Martell Wis, to rest for awhile before taking up the work again. Rev. Mr. Wickre came to the Glyndon neighborhood on May 20, six years ago, and during his pastorate has built up his charges in both spiritual and material ways. He has a large number of friends in Moorhead as well as Glyndon, who hope for a speedy recovery of full vigor and health. The five congregations of which he is pastor are: Concordia Lutheran Church

The services will start at 11 a.m. in the Norwegian language, and in the evening at 8 o'clock in English, to which the young people are especially invited.

Life Lessons

by Regina Brett

Cleveland (OH) Plain Dealer - May 28, 2006

1. Life isn't fair, but it's still good.
2. When in doubt, just take the next small step.
3. Life is too short to waste hating people.
4. Don't take yourself too seriously. No one else does.

Bits and Pieces

5. Pay off your credit cards every month.
6. You don't have to win every argument. Agree to disagree.
7. Cry with someone. It's more healing than crying alone.
8. It's OK to get angry with God. He can take it.
9. Save for retirement starting with your first paycheck.
10. When it comes to chocolate, resistance is futile.
11. Make peace with your past so it won't screw up the present.
12. It's OK to let your children see you cry.
13. Don't compare your life to others. You have no idea what their journey is all about.
14. If a relationship has to be a secret, you shouldn't be in it.
15. Everything can change in the blink of an eye, but don't worry, God never blinks.
16. Life is too short for long pity parties. Get busy living, or get busy dying.
17. You can get through anything if you stay put in today.
18. A writer writes. If you want to be a writer, write.
19. It's never too late to be happy, but it's up to you and no one else.

Bits and Pieces

20. When it comes to going after what you love in life, don't take no for an answer.
21. Burn the candles, use the nice sheets, wear fancy lingerie. Don't save it for a special occasion. TODAY is special.
22. Over prepare, then go with the flow.
23. Be eccentric now. Don't wait for old age to wear purple.
24. The most important sex organ is the brain
25. No one is in charge of your happiness but you.
26. Frame every so-called disaster with these words 'In five years, will this matter?'
27. Always choose life.
28. Forgive everyone everything.
29. What other people think of you is none of your business.
30. Time heals almost everything. Give time time.
31. However good or bad a situation is, it will change.
32. Your job won't take care of you when you're sick. Stay in touch. Friends will.
33. Believe in miracles.
34. God loves you because of who God is, not because of anything you did or didn't do.
35. Whatever doesn't kill you really does make you stronger.

Bits and Pieces

36. Growing old beats the alternative -- dying young.
37. Your children get only one childhood. Make it memorable.
38. Read the Psalms. They cover every human emotion.
39. Get outside every day. Miracles are waiting everywhere.
40. If we all threw our problems in a pile and saw everyone else's, we'd grab ours back.
41. Don't audit life. Show up and make the most of it now.
42. Get rid of anything that isn't useful, beautiful, or joyful.
43. All that truly matters in the end is that you loved.
44. Envy is a waste of time. You already have what you need.
45. The best is yet to come.
46. No matter how you feel, get up, dress up and show up.
47. Take a deep breath. It calms the mind.
48. If you don't ask, you don't get.
49. Yield
50. Life isn't tied with a bow, but it's still a gift.

I love how summer wraps its arms around us like a warm blanket.
