From Pastor Bruce

For over half a century rural congregations have raised the children to faithfully adhere to the faith. However, the beneficiaries of this investment have been urban congregations.

The out-migration of young people from rural areas shows no sign of reversal. Increasingly, rural churches are graying and in some cases closing. We do not get to vote on these trends, however, we can choose how to interpret these trends. Perhaps the most beneficial way to look at these events is to say that, in our case Concordia Lutheran has invested in the future of the broader church, even though with some notable exceptions, the investment into our young people over the decades has not yielded a critical mass that would ensure Concordia's ongoing ministry for the next century and a half (as it was established a century and a half ago). However, while rural congregations may not believe that they will be around to greet the 22 century, we hope that the broader church will endure. To this end we continue to contribute to the larger church through our benevolence offerings. I'd like to pass on the following encouraging reports about young people investing in not only the broader church but in actively serving our mission to reach out to the unchurched. I hope you find the same encouragement from this as I did. This comes from Bishop Wohlrabe:

Over the last decade congregations have been asking, “Where have all our young adults gone?” The anxiety that drives this question has been heightened by the release of reports like a 2012 Pew Research study that reported, “The number of Americans who do not identify with any religion continues to grow at a rapid pace. One-fifth of the U.S. public – and a third of adults under 30 – are religiously unaffiliated today, the highest percentages ever in Pew Research Center polling.”

While church folks tear their hair out wondering how to replenish our ranks of young adults, the best-kept secret in our ELCA has been the growing success of a movement called Young Adults in Global Mission or YAGM, for short. Today, there are over 800 “alumni” of the YAGM program that began in 1999. Each year the YAGM program receives applications from roughly twice the number of young adults as the funding for the program can allow.

What is YAGM? Answer: “The ELCA Young Adults in Global Mission program invites ELCA young adults ages 21-29 into a transformative, year-long journey in international service. As they offer themselves in service, ELCA young adults are shaped by the witness of our global neighbors.

They share in the journeys of companion churches and organizations in one of nine countries around the world.” This month’s column puts the spotlight on eight Lutherans making a world of difference—all of them YAGMS with connections to our synod.

These young adults have spent (or are spending) time in a variety of countries and arenas of ministry:

- Jen Engquist, interim YAGM Co-Coordinator in Cambodia for 2016-2017. Jen also served as a YAGM in Argentina in 2010-2011.
- Colin and Jeni Grangaard, beginning their third year as YAGM Country Coordinators in Jerusalem and the West Bank. (Back in 2004-2005 Colin had also served as a YAGM at a chemical dependency center in Edinburgh, Scotland.) Colin formerly served as a pastor at Trinity of Moorhead and Our Savior’s of Barnesville; Jeni pastored Glyndon Lutheran Church.

- Levi Heath of Bemidji, currently a YAGM teaching English and music to young people in the villages of Kötcse and Nagycsepely in Hungary.
- Tessa Moon Leiseth of Moorhead, who with her husband Deacon Jon Leiseth (and their children Isaac and Sophia), served 2012-2017 as YAGM Country Coordinators in Pietermaritzburg, South Africa.
- Britta Moen of Wadena, who was a YAGM in Madagascar, 2016-17, serving with the Sefama Lutheran School for the Deaf.
- Elise Sperling of Moorhead, who served as a YAGM in Cambodia, 2015-16, volunteering with Life With Dignity, a non-profit organization that works in rural development; she also taught English to 300 students in a local school.
- Andrew Steele, who currently serves on the ELCA churchwide staff in Chicago, was a YAGM 2010-2011 at Bloemfontein, South Africa where he worked with an orphanage filled with children whose parent(s) died of AIDS; he also helped with worship at a local congregation.

Grace and peace,

Pastor Bruce

More about the Young Adult
Global Mission from the ELCA
Website:

The ELCA Young Adults in Global Mission program invites ELCA young adults ages 21-29 into a transformative, year-long journey in international service. As they offer themselves in service, ELCA young adults are shaped by the witness of our global neighbors. They share in the journeys of companion churches and organizations in one of nine countries around the world.

A year of service through the Young Adults in Global Mission program invites young adults to become the hands and feet of Jesus in the world, providing critical support to ministries and projects in communities of need. It also invites volunteers into a journey of self-reflection, providing space to consider their sense of identity, God's work in the world, and their place within it all.

Young adults serve in the spirit of accompaniment, walking alongside global companions in a manner that practices mutuality, interdependence and solidarity. Areas of service include, but are not limited to, health and development, congregational ministry, human rights, education, homelessness, addiction recovery, women's issues and children and youth. All site placements provide opportunities for young adults to confront issues of wealth and poverty, racial privilege, economic disparity and globalization, all through the lens of faith.

Candidates for Young Adults in Global Mission apply to the program at-large rather than to a specific country. Applicant preferences are taken into account but the final decision about where volunteers serve is made by Global Mission staff and YAGM country coordinators in mid-April. Current YAGM country programs include: Argentina/Uruguay, Australia, Cambodia, Central Europe, Jerusalem/West Bank, Madagascar, Mexico, Rwanda, Senegal, Southern Africa and United Kingdom

Applications for the program open on December 1, and are due Feb. 15 each year, for service beginning that same August.

We are a church that believes God is calling us into the world – together. Come, imagine yourself in the world!

Steven Sladky

1946-2017

Steven Roger Sladky died at home from COPD on Aug. 31, 2017.

Steve was born in Bemidji on August 19, 1946 to Roger and Marjorie (Werner) Sladky. His job with Solar Gas Company brought him to Walker in 1968 to open that company's local office. By the mid-1970s he had established himself as an independent operator in the 'digger business.' He would often remark that he was able to spend most of his adult life doing what every little boy in a sandbox dreams of – using big machines to move dirt and driving trucks. Steve also enjoyed playing bass guitar in local bands for over 25 years. In 2000, Steve married Alene Grover and they became great traveling companions, visiting all of the lower 48 states. He dealt with end stage COPD with determination and grace, and despite the overwhelming limitations the disease placed on him, found great joy in most days during the last often difficult years of his life.

Steven is survived by his wife, Alene; son, Warren Sladky, Minneapolis; three brothers, three nieces, a nephew and two great-nephews. He shared a special relationship with stepson Graham

Taylor, and enjoyed time spent with grandchildren Dylan and Mazzy Taylor and other extended and blended family members. He is greatly missed by Jack the cat and black lab Trixie.

Remembrance was held in Bemidji on Tuesday, September 5, with the interment service in Concordia's cemetery on September 6.

Reformation Sunday

October 29

Martin Luther was an Augustinian monk and theology professor who nailed a document listing his concerns about church practice to the door of Castle Church in Wittenberg, Germany on Halloween, 1517. "The 95 Theses" is credited as the catalyst for the Protestant Reformation. Luther felt that the sale of indulgences was a fund raising effort that did nothing to assure the donor or his family member(s) a place in heaven; justification was by faith alone.

When a group of German princes who supported Luther sent a letter of protest to the Pope, the term "Protestant" was born.

Martin Luther never intended to start a new religion, and insisted that his only desire was to reform the Catholic Church, not replace it. Nevertheless, his view of our personal relationship with God through Jesus Christ is the foundation for today's Lutheran Church.

Lemon Blondies

Ingredients

½ cup butter, softened

¾ cup sugar

zest of ½ lemon

2 large eggs

1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice

¾ cup flour

½ teaspoon baking powder

for the glaze:   ¾ cup powdered sugar

1 ½ TB fresh lemon juice

zest of ½ lemon

Directions

- Preheat the oven to 350. Prepare an 8 x 8 pan by spraying with cooking spray or lining with foil, and set aside.

Recipe of the Month

- In a large bowl or the bowl of a stand mixer, beat together the butter, sugar, and lemon zest until light and fluffy.
- Add the eggs one at a time, mixing well after each addition, then add the lemon juice.
- Add the flour and salt, and mix until just combined.
- Scoop the batter into the prepared pan and smooth into an even layer.
- Bake 20-25 minutes, or until a toothpick inserted into the brownies comes out clean. Let cool 10-15 minutes.

To make the glaze

- Whisk together the powdered sugar, lemon juice, and lemon zest, then pour over the brownies, spreading evenly to coat.
- Let cool completely before slicing and serving.

Ole bought Lena a piano for her birthday. A few weeks later Lars asked how she was doing with it. “Oh,” said Ole, “I persuaded her to switch to da clarinet.”

“How come?” asked Lars.

“Vell,” Ole answered, “because vith da clarinet, she can’t sing ...”

LEVI THORTVEDT, CLAY RESIDENT 66 YEARS
DIES TODAY

Came overland with party of Norwegians by covered wagon Pioneer succumbs at home in Moland Township; Funeral not arranged

Levi Thortvedt, 74, one of Clay County's earliest and best known pioneers, died this morning at his farm home in Moland Township, where he had resided since 1870.

His death came less than a month after that of his wife, who died October 6.

Mr. Thortvedt was a year old when his parents, the late Mr. & Mrs. Ole G Thortvedt, left Norway where he was born January 31, 1860, and came to America. Locating first in Houston County, Minn., the family lived there for nine years. It was in 1870 that Ole Thortvedt brought his family to Clay County, one of its earliest pioneers. The place where the Thortvedt family came became the so-called Buffalo River Settlement.

His marriage to Ingeborg Midgarden took place on February 23, 1883. She also was a child at the time she began her residence in Minnesota. Together they had continued to farm the land which Mr. Thortvedt received from his father.

Surviving are three sons: Ole, Dilworth; Goodwin, Glyndon; and Norman, at home; seven daughters: Mrs. Albert Johnk, near Moorhead; Mrs. Dora Berg, Glyndon; Miss Stella Thortvedt, at home; Mrs. Hilman Nelson, near Glyndon; and Misses, Eva, Orabel and Florence at home, and two sisters, Mrs. G. O. Lee, Glyndon, and Mrs O. C. Miller, Alberta, Canada. There are nine grandchildren.

Funeral services have not been arranged, but the body is at the Wright Funeral Home.

Telemarken, Mr. Thortvedt's birthplace, was the point from which the Thortvedt family sailed in 1861. They landed in Quebec after eight weeks of traveling. A short time was spent in Wisconsin followed by purchase of land in Houston County, Minn. where they stayed until May 18, 1870.

Ambitious and with a pioneering zest, Ole Thortvedt talked with friends and in the summer of 1870 persuaded a small band of Norwegians in Houston County to start for the Red River Valley with Ottertail County as their destination. The group consisted of three families, four single men and an old man who possessed a large mule and a single wagon. Ole Thortvedt was leader of the group. In his family were his wife, Thone Saangdal Thortvedt, three daughters, Joraand 16, Thone, 13, and Signe, 7, and Levi, who was 10.

The second family was that of Aanon (Gunderson) Gjeitsta, brother of Ole Thortvedt, his wife Thone, and their four sons, Gunder, 11; Gustav, 7; John, 5; and Andreas, 2. Tarje Skrei, his wife Gunild, and their only daughter Signe, 4, made up the third family. The single men were Ola Midgarden, Halvor (Salvesen) Fendalsveit, Ola Anderson, and Tarjei Muhle.

Four pair of oxen, four horses, sheep, and chickens were brought with the group. The animals' desire to return home made it necessary for a night guard through part of the trip. In three days the band had traveled as far as Rochester, Olmsted County, They did not travel on Sunday. By the next Saturday they had reached St Paul. Saturday, June 4, they were in St Cloud. It was there that Mr. Thortvedt had his first glimpse of the Red River oxcarts which he was so fond of describing during short talks given at meetings in the county within the past few years. Sauk Center was reached by Sunday, June 12.

At Alexandria, which they reached on June 15, they met Ole Strandvold, who had already taken a claim near Georgetown, at that time a Hudson Bay post. New enthusiasm was instilled in the travelers by his accounts. Under his leadership the pioneers trekked overland to Evansville, Osakis, and numerous other prairie villages, camping overnight wherever the scouts could find suitable spots. Eventually they came to Ottertail County, reaching the Bois de Sioux River, following this stream to its junction with the already famous Red River of the North.

Up this historic river they traveled by easy stages, finally arriving in Clay County, the spot which they hoped would be the land of promise for all of them.
